Dental Clinic and Residency program to help poor and vulnerable adults

Adults who have low incomes and medically complex needs face serious barriers to dental care access. These patients have very limited options and often do not seek dental care until a medical crisis occurs—and then, they often end up in the Providence St. Peter Hospital Emergency Center. Many of these patients experience acute pain and infections requiring extensive hospital stays that could have been prevented with routine dental care.

To address this community need, Providence is launching a new Dental Clinic and Residency program, in collaboration with Neighborcare Health, a Federally Qualified Health Center and the Providence Family Residency program.

The seven-chair clinic will provide services—including complex dental procedures—to poor and vulnerable adults. We anticipate it opening in spring 2019 with two full-time dentists and staff. The residency, which must provide clinical services for one full year before it can achieve accreditation, is anticipated to launch in the summer of 2020. When fully operational, this clinic will have a team of five dentists, comprised of three residents, two attending dentists and two hygienists.

Funding for this new program is being provided by donors to Providence St. Peter Foundation (Greatest Need Fund), the 2017 Christmas Forest Fund-a-Need, which included a generous match by the Washington State Dental Association and an $800,000 Washington State Department of Commerce Dental Clinic Capacity Grants Program appropriation. We are continuing to raise critical funds for the $1.8 million needed to launch this program.

The new clinic will be located on the St. Peter Hospital campus in the Professional Building and construction should begin later this year.

For more information, please contact Peter Brennan (peter.brennan@providence.org), executive director, or Cecily Clemons (cecily.clemons@providence.org), philanthropy officer, at 360-493-7981.

Foundation provides operational support to the Providence Sexual Assault Clinic

The Sexual Assault Clinic and Child Maltreatment Center provides care throughout the five-county area of southwest Washington as well as Indian Child Welfare and tribal communities.

The foundation board is continuing its annual support of the Providence Sexual Assault Clinic and Child Maltreatment Center with a contribution of $200,000 for 2018. The clinic is supported by donations to Providence St. Peter Foundation. It provides compassionate and quality care to victims of sexual assault and physical abuse.

Founded in 1991, the clinic serves more than 350 patients each year (mostly children). Referrals are received from law enforcement, Child Protective Services, medical providers and school personnel.

The clinic's physicians, nurse practitioners, nurses and social workers work together to provide an expansive list of services, including:

- Medical care provided by a board-certified pediatrician with special training in abuse.
- Compassionate medical evaluations for children, adolescents and adults who are victims of sexual abuse by trained nurse practitioners, sexual assault nurse examiners and social workers.
- Crisis counseling for the parents or caregivers of children who have been victimized.
- Access to 24-hour, on-call nurse examiners at Providence St. Peter Emergency Center for suspected cases of adult sexual abuse.
- Special training to other hospitals and local not-for-profit organizations relating to the identification, treatment and prevention of sexual abuse.

Guided by the values of the Sisters of Providence, Providence St. Peter Hospital is committed to providing compassionate care to all – with a special concern for the youngest and most vulnerable among us.

$1 million renovation to the Sunshine House

Located on the campus of Providence St. Peter Hospital, the Sunshine House offers convenient and affordable lodging for out-of-town families receiving medical treatment at Providence St. Peter Hospital. During their stay, guests at the Sunshine House receive respite, encouragement and supportive services in their time of need.

A $1 million renovation to the Sunshine House has just been completed, thanks to a planned gift left by Alvin and Evelyn Thompson. This planned gift was made in 1994 as a charitable remainder trust to benefit the Sunshine House and the people it serves.

Renovations included many energy-efficient upgrades and aesthetic improvements, such as:

- Installation of 78 solar panels.
- An interior upgrade for the entire facility.
- A complete upgrade to the HVAC system.
- Installation of all-new LED lighting.
- New furniture for private guestrooms and common areas.
- New artwork throughout the facility.
- Creation of an outdoor healing garden.
- Repairs to the building's infrastructure.

The facility has been providing comfort to guests since 1987 and is supported by the generosity of volunteers, guests, individuals and business owners.

Remembering Harold "Hal" Marcus

Harold "Hal" Marcus was a longtime, generous donor to the foundation and served as a foundation board member from 1989-2005. During his tenure, he also served as board treasurer. Upon his retirement from the board, he was honored with the distinction of emeritus member.

Hal and his wife, Inge, have been two of the most generous donors to Providence St. Peter Foundation, but are also well known for their support and commitment to other South Sound organizations.

Most recently, Hal's estate provided for a $500,000 gift to Providence St. Peter Foundation's Greatest Need Fund endowment. In 2013, the critical care unit at St. Peter Hospital was named after Hal and Inge Marcus in appreciation for a significant gift through their estate plans to Providence. In 2002, Hal and Inge gave generously to the 2nd Century Campaign Endowment fund.

"We are saddened by Hal's passing and so grateful to both him and Inge for their generosity to Providence," says Medrice Coluccio, chief executive, Providence Health & Services, Southwest Washington.

From an early age, Hal learned the importance of giving time and resources to his community. "Hal cared deeply about those who are less fortunate and his legacy will support others for decades to come," says Peter Brennan, executive director of the foundation.

Hal was born Dec. 15, 1927, and was a Brooklyn, N.Y. native. He served in World War II and studied industrial engineering at Penn State and the University of Southern California. He worked in industrial engineering and management consulting, then became involved in real estate. Hal is survived by his wife Inge, son Matthew, daughter-in-law Shelley and five grandchildren.

Making a gift of a lifetime

A bequest is one of the easiest and most personal gifts you can make to support the Providence Mission. Your bequest could be a specific asset (such as real estate, a coin collection, artwork, etc.) or it can be a specific dollar amount or a percentage of your estate. A bequest can even be made from the residue of your estate after all gifts have been distributed to your heirs.

Each year, the foundation receives gifts through bequests from people who have been touched by Providence during their lifetime. These thoughtful bequests, in turn, touch the lives of those in need for years to come.

How a bequest works:

- You include a bequest to Providence St. Peter Foundation in your will or trust (we can provide sample language).
- You can make your bequest unrestricted or designate it to a specific purpose.
- You indicate an amount, a percentage, an asset or simply the balance remaining in your estate or trust after your heirs have been taken care of.

If you already have a will, you can simply add Providence St. Peter Foundation by executing a codicil.

You do not have to consider yourself wealthy to make a bequest. A bequest allows you to make a difference to your favorite charity without affecting your current financial circumstances. Anyone can help further the Mission of Providence or another meaningful charity.

Please let us know if you have named Providence St. Peter Foundation in your will. We would like to thank you personally and welcome you to the Legacy Society. To let us know if Providence is in your will or if you have questions about leaving Providence in your estate plans, please call Cecily Clemons, philanthropy officer, at 360-493-7981.

Benefits of a bequest:

- You create a legacy.
- It costs you nothing today.
- You can modify your bequest.
- Heirs can still benefit with your gifts.

Gifts enable foundation to award $1.9 million in grants

Thanks to charitable gifts from generous individuals, businesses and organizations, the Providence St. Peter Foundation Board approved more than $1.9 million in funding during the annual grant cycle.

Purchase a brick or paver by July 13

Providence Way is a natural garden setting near the main entrance to St. Peter Hospital. It is a serene place where patients, families, friends and staff can find comfort and solitude amidst beautiful landscaping, benches and paths. A healing area lined with bricks and pavers, many of which are personalized with the names of those loved, respected and honored.

Consider honoring someone and create a lasting tribute on Providence St. Peter campus by purchasing a brick or paver. Gifts to this commemorative area are designated to the Greatest Need Fund, which enables the Providence St. Peter Foundation to support many needs within local Providence ministries.

Take a moment to think of those who mean the most to you, and purchase a brick or paver by July 13, 2018 so it can be installed in time for the September 20 dedication.

To purchase a brick or paver, please call 360-493-7981 or visit www.providence.org/provwaySW

Included in the approved grant requests: $378,000 to replace patient monitors and computer systems in the critical care unit; $369,000 to purchase several ultraviolet light disinfection systems, which can disinfect an entire room and reduce hospital-acquired infection rates; and $200,000 to support the Providence Sexual Assault Clinic and Child Maltreatment Center.

Grants requests also included approval to continue compassionate Mission-focused programs, such as $90,000 to continue the No One Dies Alone program; $85,000 to continue the Providence Animal-Assisted Activities and Therapy program and $60,000 to continue the Music Thanatology program.

A sample of some of the grants approved:

Emergency Center

Neonatal warmers to safely provide thermoregulation, monitoring and easy transport of infants to proper hospital units.

Critical Care Unit

Continuous Renal Replacement Therapy device to assist in treatment for critically ill patients suffering from kidney dysfunction.

Psychiatry

Operational funding to support the Mental Health Access Program, which helps fill a critical service gap for adults who are unable to get mental health counseling services due to lack of insurance or lack of adequate insurance.

Imaging

“Dash” monitors, which allow for wireless integration of vital signs to appear on the procedure monitors, improving patient observation.

Sports Medicine

Funding for a comprehensive sports concussion program, which will provide care for the Olympia, North Thurston and Tumwater school districts. “HealthyRoster” will serve as an electronic medical record and means of secure communication among the coaches, trainers and the Providence sports medicine clinic to ensure that athletes are safely able to return to play after an injury.

SoundHomeCare & Hospice Services

Funding to train home health clinical staff to improve a patient’s independence and safety at home with a goal to prevent falls.

Funding to provide lymphedema management education for patients, community members and health care providers to increase the ability to serve more home health patients.

Mother Joseph Care Center

“AccuVein Illuminator” IV insertion devices to provide timely patient intervention, help decrease the number of patients sent to St. Peter Hospital, and reduce delays in care.

Animal-assisted therapy and the human-animal bond

Animals bring comfort to many people, and this interaction can provide positive physical and emotional benefits to patients in a health care setting.

The Providence Animal-Assisted Activities & Therapy program (PAAA/T) has been a compassionate service for patients at St. Peter Hospital since 1989. The program's volunteers provide physical, emotional and psychological benefits for both patients and staff as they visit various units around the hospital.

"We truly believe that visits from our animal-handler teams make a positive impact on a patient's health and well-being," says Danni Sabia, program manager for the PAAA/T program. "The smiles from patients and the interactions a patient has with the animal say it all."

Benefits of animal-assisted therapy for adults and children include:

- Reducing a patient's anxiety or stress
- Taking the patient's mind off of their illness or injury
- Lowering blood pressure
- Improving emotional and mental well-being
- Assisting with physical therapy activities
- Inspiring smiles and laughter

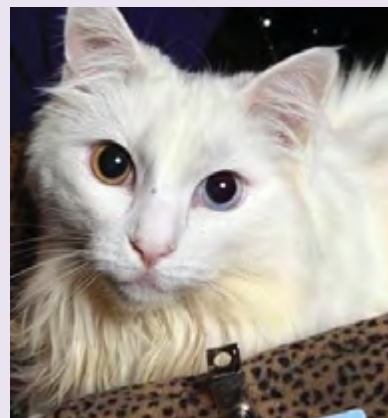

One of the animals in the PAAA/T program is Studley, who was also honored as the ASPCA Cat of the Year in 2014. Studley's handlers, Keith and Pam Phillips, adopted him as a rescue and knew he would be a wonderful therapy animal. "Studley was born to bring a sense of comfort to others," Pam says. "But the beautifully unique thing about him is that he meets patients exactly where they are, with an unconditional acceptance of whatever space the person may be in at that time."

Providence Centralia Hospital now has a similar program called PAWS (Paw Assisted Wellness Services). These animal-handler teams have just started seeing patients in outpatient pediatric rehabilitation and in the medical unit.

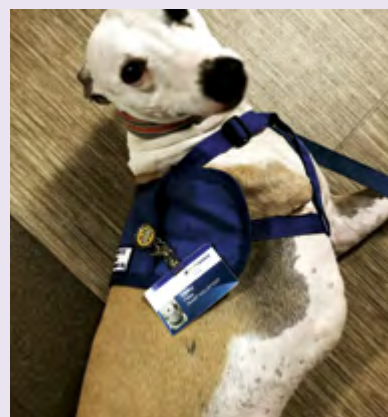

"The PAAA/T and PAWS programs are completely funded by philanthropy" says Peter Brennan, executive director of the foundation. "Animal-assisted therapy is aligned with the healing Mission of Providence and these unique teams bring comfort to many."

For further information on PAAA/T or to become a volunteer, please call 360-493-7629.

A Message from the Foundation President

In this Cornerstone edition, you will see a listing of generous individuals, businesses and foundations who have given to Providence St. Peter Foundation this past year.

Through this kindness and compassion, combined donations to the foundation in 2017 were $5,007,407, and we are so grateful because our work would not be possible without your support. We are also thankful for our volunteers, the foundation board members and all of our Providence caregivers, who make a difference every day in the lives of patients and their families.

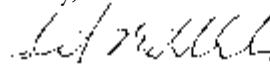

Through your generosity, the foundation is able to actively support safety-net services that benefit our community. Life-saving services, such as those provided at our Emergency Center, compassionate care services at the Sexual Assault and Child Maltreatment Center, critical need services at the Providence

Community Care Center, and the care that will be offered at the new dental residency program in 2019 would simply not be possible without all of you.

I am grateful to be a part of the foundation's mission to assure quality health care is available in the communities we serve, especially programs serving the poor and vulnerable. I am humbled by your contributions as you help Providence change lives.

We thank you for your many gifts, as it is through your generosity that we make our community a better place to live.

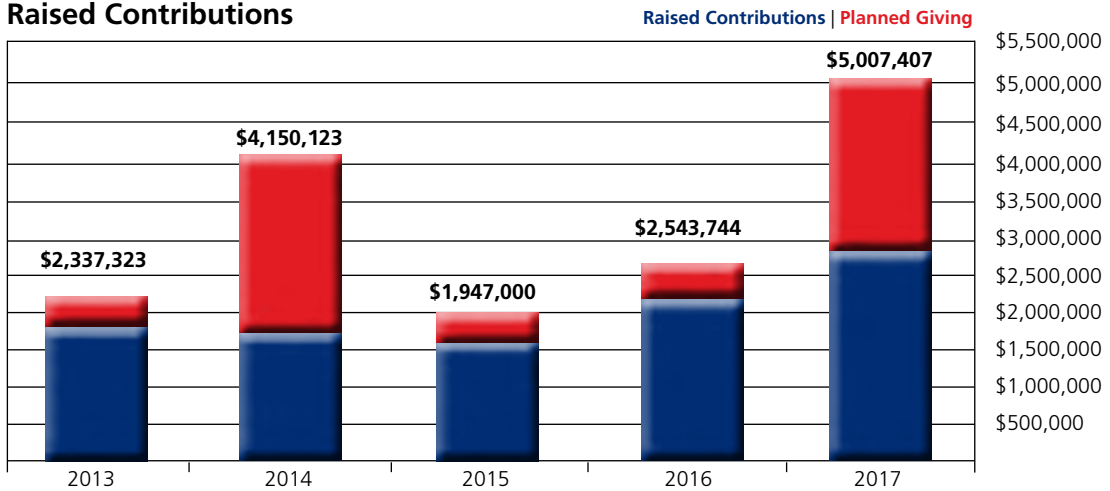

Sincerely,

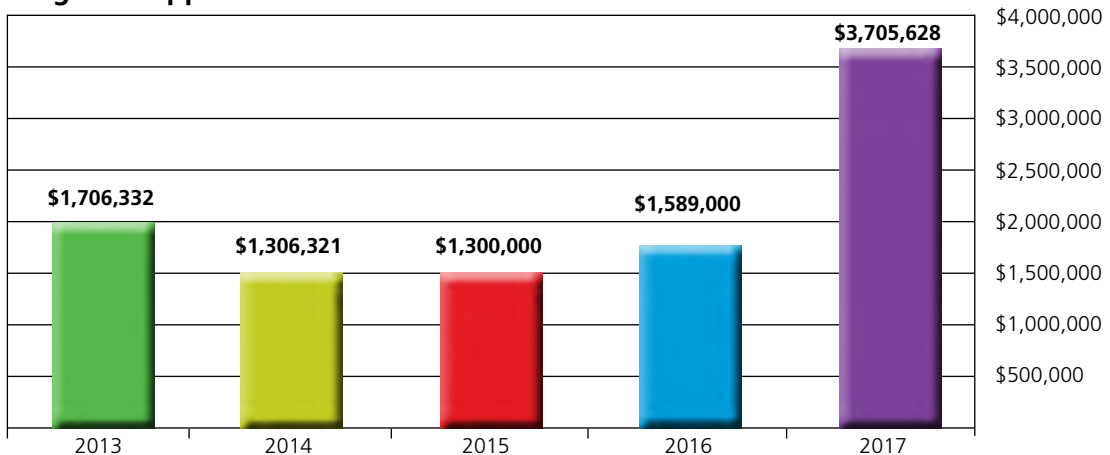

Rick Middleton
Board President

Would you like to support one of the programs you are reading about?

If you read about a program in this issue of Cornerstone that you would like to support, please use the attached self-addressed/stamped envelope to mail your gift. Just make a note on your check if you are supporting a particular program – if you do not specify a program, your gift will go to the Greatest Need Fund. Or, go online at www.providence.org/CornerstoneSW and let us know you read Cornerstone when you send in your gift!

Thank you for helping us provide compassionate programs and services to those in need.
