Providence caregivers unite to make a dream come true

Born with spina bifida, Felix, an eight-year-old from Lacey, wasn't able to walk for half his life. Spina bifida is a birth defect in which a developing baby's spinal cord fails to develop properly. He participated in intensive physical therapy which helped him learn to walk but he still had weakness in his lower extremities. Activities like riding bikes with his older sisters were very difficult because his right leg turned inward.

"All he wants is to ride his bike with his siblings," said Felix's mother, Heather.

Thanks to the generosity of countless Southwest Region caregivers at Providence Regional Cancer System – RadiantCare Radiation Oncology (PRCS), and other providers outside of PRCS, enough funds were raised through the Adopt-A-Family program to purchase a special AmTryke, a $1,200 therapeutic tricycle for people with disabilities. More than $1,600 was raised in less than five days; the excess funds were donated to the Providence St. Peter Foundation.

"Helping him do things other kids do means so much to us," said Heather. "This is a pure blessing. Thank you so much to everyone who donated and helped our family."

"Those that lead the project and those that donated felt in their hearts that this was the right thing to do," said Marissa Austin, RN, BSN, clinic nursing supervisor at Providence Regional Cancer System. "Every child deserves a bike."

Alvin and Evelyn Thompson

A legacy of caring continues – 22 years later

In 1994, Alvin and Evelyn Thompson created a charitable remainder unitrust with parcels of vacant land. While both Thompsons have since passed away, the legacy they created and directed funds to, still helps those in need today at the Providence St. Peter Sunshine House.

The Sunshine House, located on the Providence St. Peter campus since 1987, is a “home away from home” for people with critically ill family members who need to be close to the hospital for extended treatments. Because of the Thompson’s gift, the Sunshine House now has funding for capital improvements that will provide additional comforts and amenities to patients and their families in need, as well as provide upgrades that will provide substantial cost savings for years to come.

A legacy gift of real estate, or other appreciated assets no matter how large or small, can significantly enhance our ability to provide compassionate services to people in need - just like the Thompson’s planned gift in 1994. We continue to give thanks to the Thompsons for creating a legacy of caring that lives on.

Learn more about planned giving at www.providence.org/giving under “Create a Legacy of Giving.” If you are considering including a gift to Providence St. Peter Foundation in your will, please contact Peter Brennan at 360-493-7981 or peter.brennan@providence.org

Anyone can make a planned gift to the Providence St. Peter Foundation. In fact, planned giving can provide substantial tax benefits such as avoidance of capital gains, immediate deductions and income for the rest of your life. For many, it is also a way to assure their impact on our community lives on, through the work of an organization that meant so much to them.

Gifts enable Foundation to award more than $582,000 during spring and fall 2015 grant cycles

In the last 14 years, the Foundation has distributed more than $30 million to further the mission of compassionate care for the poor and vulnerable in our local communities.

Thanks to charitable gifts from generous individuals, businesses and organizations, the Providence St. Peter Foundation Board approved more than $582,000 in grant awards during spring and fall of 2015.

These funds make many programs and enhanced patient services possible. A sampling of grant awards includes equipment for interventional radiology, pathology, in-patient rehab and neuro therapy, and support for Providence Regional Cancer Services, Mother Joseph Care Center and Providence Medical Group’s Geriatric Center of Excellence.

The Foundation also continues to provide the Music Thanatology program, a specialized therapy that aids patients with serious illness and those at end-of-life.

Other grant awards will benefit many departments and programs including:

- Nursing education
- Spiritual care
- Long-term care, home health and hospice
- NODA (No One Dies Alone)
- Providence Animal-Assisted Activities & Therapy Programs (PAAA/T)

In the last 14 years, the Foundation has distributed more than $30 million to further the mission of compassionate care for the poor and vulnerable in our local communities.

Prepare for the unexpected: Advance Care Planning

At the end of life, or during critical illnesses, patients are often unable to make important medical care decisions. This places a heavy responsibility and burden on families, as well as health care providers. However, the burden can be alleviated through advance care planning, the process in which individuals make deliberate decisions, in advance about their health care preferences and who will make decisions for them if they become unable to speak for themselves.

discuss their health care wishes in advance of critical illness or final days of life.

Advance care planning has recently emerged as an area of great need. “The process of holding conversations with patients to identify the care they want in advance of need promotes compassionate care,” says Dr. Scott Tibbits, one of the program’s medical champions. “It also improves health care experiences for patients and families, as well as for providers.”

Through generous donor funding, Providence has launched a coordinated effort to meet this need by creating an Advance Care Planning program in Southwest Washington. In collaboration with Providence Health and Services both in Washington and other states, Honoring Choices Pacific Northwest—a resource in Washington for advance care planning and local community partners, will provide patients and their families the opportunity to

Medrice Coluccio, chief executive of Providence Health and Services in Southwest Washington, believes this program is a critical step toward improving critical illness and end-of-life care. “These are very difficult conversations, even under the best of circumstances,” she says. “But if we, as caregivers, can learn to navigate these discussions, we can remove a major difficulty that many families face, especially during the final days of life.”

for outpatient palliative care

On May 19, 2015 the Outpatient Palliative Care Clinic opened two weeks ahead of schedule. Initially borrowing exam room space in the emergency center at St. Peter Hospital, it quickly expanded and moved services to the East Olympia Family Practice on Lilly Road. The Clinic anticipates moving to a permanent location in south Lacey towards the end of 2016 to further expand its outpatient palliative care services.

The clinic has been enormously successful, providing outpatient services to 70 new patients and their families, which represents a 119 percent increase from anticipated caseloads. When it opened in May 2015, the clinic provided two half-days of service and within five months of operation, service increased to two full-days of service each week. It will soon expand to three full-days per week and we anticipate increasing to four or five full-days by the middle of 2017.

In addition to direct client services, there has been an increased understanding of palliative care among community and Providence providers, in part through our nurse navigators' one-on-one sessions with other care providers, educating them as to the difference between palliative care and hospice care and clarifying the when, where, and how of palliative care.

The program has also made an impact in helping providers broach conversations with patients, which can be challenging. Efforts to help caregivers initiate these conversations will continue, to help improve our ability to provide patients and their families the opportunity to plan their end of life care before they become gravely ill and require hospice. In addition, members of the clinic team have been invited to present at a number of community events, reflecting an increasing awareness and interest in palliative care within the community.

In just one year, far more has been accomplished than anticipated, positively impacting the lives of our patients and their families who seek outpatient palliative care services. This clinic's significant growth demonstrates the value it brings to our patients and care providers. As the only comprehensive multi-disciplinary outpatient palliative care clinic in Southwest Washington, we – with our donors' support – are making significant and positive impacts on improving the lives of others in our communities.

We are grateful to those who have made this clinic possible, and for the caregivers who are making a positive and compassionate difference in the lives of families every day.

2016 Christmas Forest set for Nov. 30 – Dec. 4

Christmas
Forest

Christmas Forest is one of Southwest Washington's most honored traditions. This five-day holiday fundraiser offers a chance for the community to enjoy a festive display of Christmas trees and wreaths, created by Thurston County's most talented designers.

Attend one of the special events to help get into the holiday spirit, or drop by the Christmas Forest Gift Shop to stock up on unique and special holiday gifts and décor.

Leading the way

Kevin and Tammi Schreiner are returning once again as Christmas Forest co-chairs. Kevin, who has served on the Providence St. Peter Foundation Board of Directors since 2010, says he is very pleased to be able to participate in such a central role for another year.

"Tammi and I are looking forward to another fantastic year of chairing the Christmas Forest. It was so rewarding last year to see how much time and effort so many people put into this event to make it such a smashing success, all to benefit our community. We felt that the tree and wreath designers did an especially phenomenal job in 2015 and we can't wait to see what they come up with this year."

Want to get involved? We need:

- Sponsors. This event relies on generous businesses and individuals to sponsor the trees, wreaths, and specialty items that make Christmas Forest possible.
- Designers. Our region's most creative individuals and design teams contribute their talent to create the trees and wreaths that make the event magical.
- Auction items and packages. Volunteers help our event team secure the great auction items and packages that raise vital funds.
- Skilled maintenance people. Volunteers who are good with power tools help make set-up and tear-down days go smoothly.

If you're interested in volunteering, please contact Stacey Genzlinger, Special Events Manager, at Stacey.Genzlinger@providence.org or (360) 493-7985.

Having fun and doing good

Last year's Christmas Forest raised $673,000, including $322,000 to help create a new Community Care Center in downtown Olympia. Over the past 28 years, Christmas Forest has raised funds to support life-saving medical equipment, compassionate care, and mission-driven programs. Christmas Forest is Providence St. Peter Foundation's largest fundraising event, generating more than $9.8 million throughout its history.

A Message from the Foundation President

Your support of Providence St. Peter Foundation continues to change lives for the better. We continually work to support compassionate health care in our community, and I am grateful to be a part of the Foundation's mission to assure quality health care is available in the communities we serve, especially programs serving the poor and vulnerable.

We continue to be incredibly mission-driven and look for ways to improve the mental health care challenges that our underserved populations face. I am proud to say that through the generosity of others, a critical health care initiative is underway. The Community Care Center will serve the most stigmatized individuals, especially those with mental health and substance abuse challenges, by providing them with a single point of access for treatment, housing and many other services.

It is because of you and others in this generous community that the Providence St. Peter Foundation has funds to allocate to important causes such as the Community Care Center and other programs previously developed to help those in need. On the following pages of this Cornerstone issue, you will see the names of individuals and organizations who were a part of our mission to help the underserved in 2015 – we are so thankful to you. We are also thankful to those who have supported us at any point in time, and to the hundreds of volunteers who give their selfless time and energy to fulfill our mission.

On behalf of the Foundation Board, thank you for your ongoing support of the Providence St. Peter Foundation. I look forward to developing partnerships and building upon our successes, so that access to high-quality, excellent health care is available to those most in need in our community. We are honored and inspired by your support.

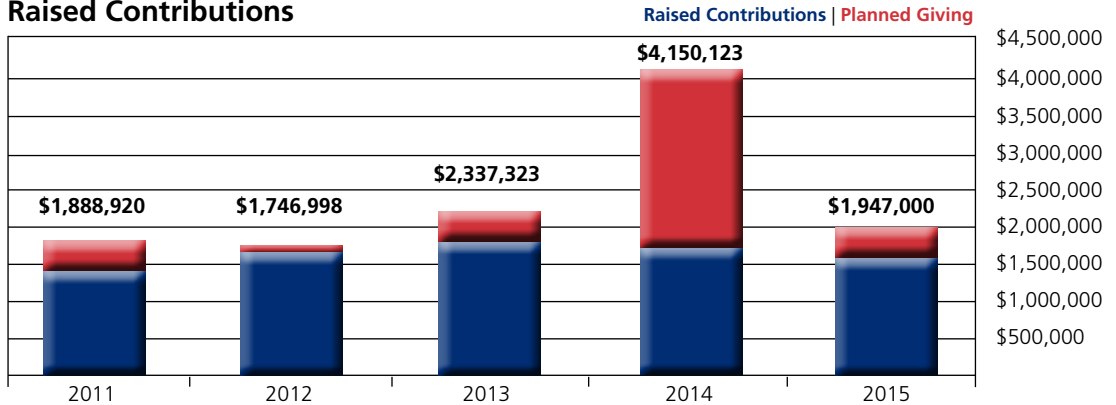

With appreciation,

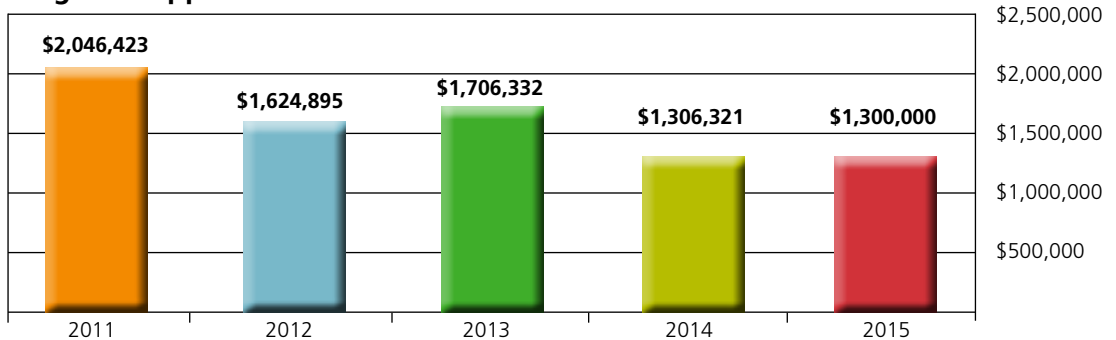

Rick Middleton
Board President

Purchase a brick or paver by July 5

Providence Way is a natural garden setting near the main entrance to St. Peter Hospital. It is a serene place where patients, families, friends and staff can find comfort and solitude amidst beautiful landscaping, benches and paths. A healing area lined with bricks and pavers, many of which are personalized with the names of those loved, respected and honored.

Consider honoring someone and create a lasting tribute on the Providence St. Peter campus by purchasing a brick or paver. Gifts to this commemorative area are designated to the Greatest Need Fund, which enables the Foundation to support many needs within the local Providence ministries.

Take a moment to think of those who mean the most to you, and purchase a brick or paver by July 5, 2016 so it can be installed in time for the September 15 (4PM) dedication ceremony.

To purchase a brick or paver, please call (360) 493-7839 or visit www.providence.org/giving.

There's still time to join the Providence Society!

Your annual gift of $1,000 or more—or contributions made through estate plans—qualifies you for membership in the Providence Society. Make your gift today online at www.providence.org/giving, or call us at (360) 493-7839.
